

MARCOS NAVARRO
(Barcelona, 1986)

He lives and works in San Sebastián, where he shares a studio with the artistic collective Formato Norte. His current pictorial practice shows a strong expressionist presence and a continuous experimentation with the malleability of paint, seeking to evoke a dreamlike world where sensations and atmosphere prevail. Guided by intuition, he allows the process itself to take part in the outcome of each work.

For years, he developed his career in the field of illustration, collaborating on projects related to textile design, fashion, and music with brands such as Dr. Martens, Universal Music, SEAT, Volcom, and Instagram. He has also created large-scale murals and exhibited his work in various cities across Europe and the United States.

His imagery has always been deeply connected to nature and wildlife, from which he projects a critical perspective on contemporary society. At a decisive moment for the planet, his work reflects on the impact of our actions and the missteps of our evolution.
